

Afghanistan's Working Groups Mapping

December 2018

Foreword

One of ACBAR's pillars is to ensure coordination and effective information flow among NGOs and stakeholders. We believe that greater collaboration and dialogue increases NGO efficiency, quality of work and sparks innovation.

To tackle Afghanistan humanitarian and development's challenges, NGOs and agencies (UN, donors, government etc.) have joined forces and created a myriad of sectorial fora, clusters, and working groups to discuss and tackle collectively the issues. This mapping is an attempt to list all the working groups and clusters available and open to NGOs/Civil Society in Afghanistan – mostly at national level.

This mapping is a working document, do not hesitate to contact us to update its information or add a new group. We hope it can be useful to NGOs' coordination efforts.

Short description	In October 2016 the European Union (EU) and the Afghan Government jointly hosted the Brussels Conference on Afghanistan (BCA) to agree on future commitments with reform and development milestones. Civil society organizations agreed on six thematic monitoring groups as a result of the conference, one of them being the Aid Effectiveness Working Group (AEWG) which is accessible for any NGO/CSO and facilitated by ACBAR. The AEWG members chose to focus on monitoring the Citizen's Charter as a flagship development program of the Afghan Government. The rationale is that Citizens' Charter Afghanistan Project (CCAP) is intended to increase social empowerment through the promise of provision of essential services for all Afghan citizens, including marginalized and vulnerable groups. In addition NGOs play a key role in implementing some components of CCAP. The AEWG includes NGO Facilitating Partners (FPs) of CCAP and other NGOs and CSOs or Non-Facilitating Partners (NFPs). The AEWG looks at the participation mechanism for citizens within CCAP, troubleshoot implementations issues with evidence-based research findings and create a feedback mechanism, in collaboration with key stakeholders of CCAP. A seven member elected monitoring Board oversees the activities on a voluntary basis.
